Korea Guards Our Freedom

War Threat May Abate, Truman Says

West Point, N. Y., May 20 —(AP)—President Truman said today Korea has put the free world on the right track "to preserve our freedom without paying the frightful cost of world war."

"I believe we are well on the way . . .," he said with sober but unmistakable optimism. "We are on the right track." He held out hope there may still be an armistice in Korea but insisted "we must also be alert and ready to meet treachery or a renewal of aggression if that should come."

The president spoke at the U. S. military academy's 150th anniversary celebration. He told West Point cadets—the nation's future generals—that "as a result of Korea, the free countries are infinitely better prepared to defend themselves than they were two years ago."

But he tempered his optimism at points and, in words as grim as the gray, dripping sky above this Hudson river redoubt, told the cadets:

"But I don't want anyone to get the impression that there is any basis for relaxing or letting up. No one should assume that the possibility of world war has become remote."

He struck out from the prepared text, however, the reference to Russia's possession of the atom bomb. There was no explanation.

To match the Kremlin's might, Truman said America has a booming defense program, a growing air force, modernized tanks, and an expanded navy.

Came To West Point By Train
Truman came to West Point by train. He spoke from a flag-decked platform in the academy's huge field house, driven indoors by a cold, driving spring rain.

Earlier in the day, the president, ignoring the downpour, toured the academy, peering with an old artilleryman's curiosity into the muzzle of a howitzer still hot from a 21-gun salute.

And with an old piano-player's curiosity, he hit one or two sour notes on an organ in the chapel. Then he let the 70-year-old organist, Frederick C. Mayer, show him how to do it right.

Locusts Threaten Near East Food Supply

Rome, May 20 —(AP)—Norris Dodd returned from a four months tour of the Near East today and gave newsmen a graphic picture of the locust plague he said is bringing the threat of starvation to the entire area.

Norris, who is director of the U.N. food and agriculture organization, said the plague—the worst in 100 years and perhaps in the history of all mankind—has presented FAO with its gravest single food crisis. "Skies are black with the swarms," he said. "They land for a day and eat the land as bare as a tabletop. They lay eggs which in two weeks will produce another swarm, and then they fly on."

Against the locust, "man's ancient enemy," Russia and the United States have both sent planes and supplies to aid. Dodd said Israel offered help to Lebanon.

The FAO director said "planes, tanks, jeeps, tons of supplies, and vast numbers of trained laborers are needed."

"The new swarms originated in Kenya. They spread first across Ethiopia into Egypt, and across Saudi Arabia, increasing every two weeks to incredible numbers."

"Now they are swarming from Israel across Jordan, Lebanon, Syria, Iraq and into Iran. There are 50 swarms in Israel alone. And where they pass, there is no food left."

Last year during the locust plagues 500 swarms got to the borders of India but were exterminated there. This year, with so many more swarms, it is highly probable they will sweep into India."

"Her crop situation is serious," Dodd said. "Unless the monsoons come soon this year, and better than in recent years, the food situation will be very serious indeed."

HIGHWAY TRAFFIC DEATHS INCREASE

Springfield, Ill., May 20 —(AP)—Illinois highway traffic accidents killed 589 persons in the first quarter of this year, the State Highway Commission reported today.

In a similar 1951 period the dead totaled 535, or 10 per cent less.

April highway deaths numbered 137 this year, against 147 in April 1951.

Rail Unions May Accept Settlement

Washington, May 20 —(AP)—Three big rail unions asked today for "clarification" of the White House plan for settling their labor dispute with the nation's railroads, and there were signs that the unions might accept the proposals tomorrow.

Union leaders spent about three hours conferring with John R. Steelman, the presidential assistant who worked out the contract plan.

If the plan is accepted by the brotherhoods of engineers, conductors and firemen and engineers, their members will collect approximately 100 million dollars in retroactive wage increases.

But the unions were apparently not quite ready to take Steelman's proposals on some highly controversial working or operating rules, even though they acknowledged the proposals were better than anything offered before.

Changes in the operating rules demanded by the carriers have been the heart of the three-year labor dispute.

The railroads themselves snapped up the contract proposals a few hours after Steelman made them yesterday. It will cost them, Steelman announced, between $600 and $1,100 in wages back to October, 1950, for each of the 150,000 workers belonging to the three unions.

The firemen's 135-man policy committee stated what promised to be an all-night session to study the Steelman plan. Firemen approval depends on what the policy committee does.

The other two unions have negotiating committees here, empowered to accept or reject the plan.

Reserve Officers Refusing To Fly Get Discharges

Washington, May 20 —(AP)—The Air Force announced today it is dismissing "under honorable conditions" and without court martial 12 reserve officers who refused to fly.

The action, first disclosed at Scott Air Force Base, Ill., by the Air Force command, disposes of all but one of the 14 reported cases of that kind. The men were stationed at Randolph Air Force base in Texas and Mather Base in California.

A spokesman at the Pentagon explained that the 12 will be relieved of their commissions by administrative action because their cases have not reached the formal court martial stage. One of the others already has been disposed of and the 14th is pending.

First Lt. Verne Goodwin of Peabody, Mass., was convicted by a court martial but the sentence was cancelled upon review at headquarters and Goodwin's resignation was accepted "for the good of the service."

Capt. Carl J. Izard of Hazlehurst, Miss., originally was sentenced by a court martial to three months at hard labor and dishonorable dismissal. An intermediate reviewing authority knocked out the imprisonment sentence but let the dismissal decision stand. Air Force headquarters said the case now awaits review by top officials of the service.

Ten of the 14 reserve officers involved in the refusals to fly were involuntarily recalled by the Air Force. The remaining four volunteered for active duty. Only two of the 14 were receiving pay for drill and air training activities in the reserves prior to their recall. Ten of the 14 saw combat duty during World War II.

Marine Killed In Accident At Treasure Island

San Francisco, May 20 —(AP)—An 18-year-old Marine private, James M. McCabe, was accidentally shot and killed just after midnight as he was being relieved from sentry duty at the naval station on Treasure Island.

He was the son of Mrs. Louise Gardner of Evanston, Ill.

Lt. Col. Robert Shepard, acting commandant of the Marine barracks on Treasure Island, on San Francisco Bay, said young McCabe was being relieved from watch by Pvt. Burton H. Shays, 17, of Lancaster, Calif.

In the process of exchanging and inspecting the service pistol regularly carried by sentries, the weapon discharged. The bullet hit McCabe in the head. He died en route to the station hospital.

Colonel Shepard said a board of inquiry is being called.

Anger Marks Peace Talks In Munsan

Munsan, Korea, Wednesday, May 21 —(AP)—Allied negotiators Tuesday told the Communists voluntary repatriation of prisoners was based on United Nations principles from which there could be no retreat.

The statement was met by a storm of new Red charges which Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief U. S. delegate, termed the most "vicious, degrading propaganda" since the truce talks began 10 months ago.

More storm clouds gathered as the negotiators headed back for Panmunjom and a meeting at 11 a.m. (9 p.m. Tuesday, CDT).

New disorders in Allied prisoner of war camps were almost certain and seemed upon by the Communists as fresh ammunition for the daily charges that Red prisoners are given "barbarous" treatment.

Gen. Nam Il, the North Korean who heads the Communist armistice team, called the U. N. team liars at Tuesday's bitter 62-minute session. Joy replied that Nam Il's statements were "fraudulent and hypocritical."

A recent Allied screening of prisoners and civilian internees showed only 70,000 of 170,000 were willing to go to the Reds of their own free will.

The Communists want all their soldiers back regardless. This is the issue that blocks the signing of a Korean armistice.

The U. N. command's communiqué said Nam's charges were made "in an effort to create propaganda to counteract the damage caused to their prestige by the decision of thousands of prisoners of war to resist repatriation."

Japs Call Russian Embassy Staff 'Delicate Situation'

Tokyo, May 20 —(AP)—A Japanese foreign office spokesman today described as "very delicate" the position of the Russian mission staff, which no longer has a legal right to be here.

The old Russian embassy itself is in a virtual state of siege. The gates are closed. The staff uses gasoline and food imported previously.

There is no legal machinery for changing Russian money into Japanese currency for the purchase of supplies.

The spokesman, Masayoshi Kaitsubo, said Japan would refuse to allow ashore any Russians who arrived to join the staff at the embassy.

Technically, Russia is still at war with Japan. Russia refused to sign the treaty of peace at San Francisco.

Foreign Minister Katsuo Okasaki told the foreign affairs committee of the House of Councillors (Senate) that the Russian mission virtually has ceased to enjoy diplomatic privileges.

The Russians came to Tokyo as part of the Allied court for Japan. Kaitsubo reported Soviet employees remain here on six-month permits issued by the Allied command before the occupation ended April 28.

These permits no longer have any validity but a U. S. embassy spokesman said the Japanese apparently intended to honor them.

Kaitsubo repeated several times at his weekly press conference that the Russians present "a very delicate situation."

Asked if Japan had protested Russian seizure of Japanese fishing vessels off Hokkaido, Kaitsubo replied:

"Officially we can't protest because we are still at war, technically. It is very delicate."

Ike Tells Dutch In Farewell Talk We Will Win Peace

Amsterdam, The Netherlands, May 20 —(AP)—Gen. Eisenhower told the Dutch people today in a farewell radio address: "We will win the peace because of the progress we have made."

"Very soon we will get to a position where a far smaller proportion of our national income is devoted to build guns, ships and tanks which do nothing for the happiness of men," he said.

Then he flew back to Paris for the final few days of his job as supreme Allied commander in Europe.

He is to turn over that job May 31 to Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway and go back to the United States, where he is a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Premier Willem Drees told Eisenhower in a cabinet meeting today "you have completed successfully your job of laying the groundwork (for European defense) and now you aspire to the highest office the United States can bestow."

Eisenhower said he would like to correct that statement: "I came to Europe out of a sense of duty and the only way I shall accept public office is out of a sense of duty."

VENEZUELA TO HAVE TV

Caracas, Venezuela, May 20 —(AP)—The government of Venezuela today signed a five hundred thousand dollar contract with the Radio Corporation of America for construction of the country's first television station. It is scheduled to go into operation Nov. 24.

Promise Of Air Strip Settles Brazilian Row

Belem, Brazil, May 20 —(AP)—Two rival expeditions to the wreckage of a double-decked stratosphere were reported today to have patched up a peace after taking turns holding each other captive in the dense Brazilian jungle.

Col. Sinal Castro, chief of staff of the first air zone, told newsmen the row had been settled by agreement to build an air strip for small planes to fly out the 30 or 35 armed members of a private expedition financed by a wealthy Sao Paulo state politician.

Three planeloads of paratroopers, sent to the area yesterday by the Brazilian official and an American held hostage by the Sao Paulo group, were ordered to return to Rio De Janeiro without taking action.

The hostages—Scott Magness, U.S. Civil Aeronautics Authority official from Miami, and Maj. Miranda Corrao of the Brazilian air force—radioed last night that they had turned the tables on their captors and were in command of the situation.

Castro said it had been agreed to build an air strip at the paratroopers' base. He said Brig. Gen. Rodrigo Coelho, commander of the first air zone, flew to Lagoa Grande to coordinate the evacuation and that the airlift should start today.

He said the incident should not be considered an armed rebellion, but a case of extreme recourse taken by De Barros' men who were nervous over the delay in returning to civilization.

They apparently became alarmed at the furor created by their action in seizing Magness and Corrao when they listened in on news broadcasts over their small radio, however, and turned the two men loose. Some of the group were reported ill.

Pay Increase Bill For Armed Forces Becomes Law

Washington, May 20 —(AP)—More than three million men and women in uniform got a rise today when the White House announced that President Truman has signed a bill increasing military pay and allowances by 464 million dollars a year.

Everybody from buck private to five-star general gets a 4 per cent boost in base pay beginning this month.

Allowances for food and rent in the armed services go up 14 per cent.

The increases were voted by congress to help offset higher living costs. They apply to all ranks in the army, navy, air force and marine corps, including retired personnel.

They also extend to cadets at West Point, midshipmen at Annapolis, aviation cadets and members of the public health service, the coast guard and the coast and geodetic survey. In all, an estimated 31 million persons are affected.

Under the new law, the raises range from $3 a month for privates and seamen to $65 for two-star generals and rear admirals, the equivalent flag rank in the navy.

Most low-ranking enlisted men have no dependents and their food and lodging is furnished by the government. Consequently they will not be affected by the increase in allowances. For enlisted personnel with dependents, the monthly increase in pay and allowances will range from $13 to $19.

While the bill was in congress the senate voted to give an extra $45 a month combat pay to participants in the Korean fighting and veterans of the action there. This section was eliminated from the final version of the bill, but it may be considered again in separate legislation.

House and Senate passed the pay bill May 15.

Indiana Papers Fly SOS Banners, Ask Loan Of $1

Pekin, Ind., May 20 —(AP)—Five southern Indiana newspapers came out with big "S O S" banners today and asked each of their 18,386 subscribers to lend them $1 because the "tax men are after us."

Front-page articles outlined the plan to borrow $1 from each subscriber in return for $1.10 in trade.

Banner Publications, which publishes the five weekly newspapers in Washington county, said it is "thousands of dollars" in debt to the federal government for back taxes.

It said the government says it will padlock and sell the papers if tax payments are not made on government terms.

"In the next few days you, the readers, will say whether you think your community paper is worth enough in service given in the past and in the services to be given in the future to lend that paper one dollar," the articles said.

The firm said its assets are enough to more than pay its debts but that it was unable to get a bank loan. It also said a monthly payment plan it proposed to the federal government was rejected.

They heard about that metropolitan, with its large Scandinavian population, from Mrs. Aileen Reynolds, fashion editor of the Minneapolis Star and Tribune, whom they met in Copenhagen last year. Mrs. Reynolds promised the Myhrbergs they could live with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Olof Erickson, in suburban Anoka until they found work and shelter.

While in Hamilton, Mrs. Myhrberg had often listened to the radio show, "Welcome Travelers" (NBC). The couple thought their story might prove suitable for broadcast on the program, so they turned up there bright and early today. An interview with them was recorded for broadcast tomorrow.

The program's master of ceremonies, Tommy Bartlett, offered to fly the family to Minneapolis today in his private plane. The program furnished all three Myhrbergs with new clothing and provided dolls and toys for Monica.

The plane was due at Minneapolis at around 3 p.m. (CDT). "We really hit the jackpot," Myhrberg exclaimed happily.

May Sign Peace Pact In Bonn

Bonn, Germany, May 20 —(AP)—The western Big Three foreign ministers will meet with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer Saturday and Sunday to complete the Allied-West German peace contract and probably will sign it Monday.

The Bonn government announced this today, even as the West German Socialists and the East German Communists churned up new efforts to scuttle the agreement linking the United States, Britain and France with the 48 million Germans west of the iron curtain.

The West German Socialists, opposed to any rearmament now, forced a special meeting of parliament for Friday in an effort to open a debate on the whole peace contract. They got the required one-third of the deputies of the Bundestag (lower house) to demand the sitting.

Whether they can force a debate, however, over the wishes of Adenauer's majority parties is another question.

The East German campaign against the new contract drew further backing in the official Russian newspaper in the Soviet zone, Tageliche Rundschau. It charged in an article that the contract "preserves the danger of war in Europe."

S. Secretary of State Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman are expected to arrive in this little capital on the Rhine late Friday, the government said.

This first conference of foreign ministers held in West Germany since World War II will be held in the Schaumburg palace, Adenauer's chancellery.

Adenauer and the three western high commissioners will meet here tomorrow in a last effort to whittle down their differences over the contract.

A high Allied official said tomorrow's conference will be devoted almost entirely to finances—how much the Germans will pay during the next year toward the support of Allied troops here.

The United States Senate will be asked to ratify the contract, according to present plans in Washington, but the contract could be put into effect as an executive agreement, this source said.

The West German, French and British parliaments also must ratify the document before it becomes effective.

Editor, Senator Dispute Coverage Of Steel Seizure

Washington, May 20 —(AP)—A charge by Senator Morse (R-Or.) that national reporting of the steel seizure dispute did not give the full picture brought a challenge tonight from the president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

Wright Bryan, ASNE head and editor of the Atlanta Journal, said news coverage was "thorough and complete."

Morse, who backs President Truman's seizure of the steel mills, said the news coverage ignored "the seriousness of the situation" confronting the country and concentrated instead on the "political overtones."

He called this "one of the saddest failures of American journalism in my recollection" and added:

"In this instance, I think the press, radio and television failed to meet their public trust. They are all tarred with the same brush."

Speaking at a Senate labor subcommittee's hearing on a bill he is sponsoring to authorize seizure of defense plants, Morse also said:

"Much of the newspaper comment seemed to follow remarkably the content of full-page ads paid for by the steel companies."

Bryan replied in a statement at Atlanta:

"News coverage by the American press of all viewpoints on the steel controversy has been thorough and complete. Anyone who says otherwise simply has not read the newspapers, or else refuses to believe the evidence before his eyes."

"As to editorial comment, it has varied from one extreme to the other. Every conceivable attitude has found expression somewhere by some editor. It always does on controversial issues. That is at once the value and glory of a free press."

CHOLLY KNICKERBOCKER DIVORCED

West Memphis, Ark., May 20 —(AP)—A divorce has been granted to Mrs. Igor Cassini from the New York newspaper columnist known as "Cholly Knickerbocker."

Crittenden county courthouse records show Mrs. Cassini charged the Russian-born society writer with contempt and neglect and that he was insulting to her and "rendered her condition in life intolerable."

They heard about that metropolitan, with its large Scandinavian population, from Mrs. Aileen Reynolds, fashion editor of the Minneapolis Star and Tribune, whom they met in Copenhagen last year. Mrs. Reynolds promised the Myhrbergs they could live with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Olof Erickson, in suburban Anoka until they found work and shelter.

Brannan To Defend Support Plan In Shortage Charge

Washington, May 20 —(AP)—Secretary Brannan will tell Senate investigators tomorrow that shortages of grain and other farm commodities under government storage and price support programs total $3,320,000 for the postwar period.

He will repeat previous forecasts that losses will not run much more than a million dollars, if that much, once correction efforts have been completed. Some critics of the department have predicted the losses would be many times that amount.

The shortages compare with department commodity purchase, storage and price support loan operations totalling more than 100 billion dollars for the period.

The agriculture department made this information public ahead of Brannan's scheduled appearance before the Senate agriculture committee tomorrow. He plans to defend his agency against charges of incompetence made by a number of congressmen.

The committee has heard several dozen witnesses, including warehousemen, farmers and officials, in nearly four months of investigations and hearings on the shortages.

A summary of the shortage cases which Brannan will lay before the committee shows that 131 commercial storage concerns and 841 individual farmers are involved in the deficiencies.

The commercial concerns stored government-owned commodities and were found to be short when they were instructed to return them to the department. In many cases, the department said, the commodities had been sold by the concerns for speculative purposes, on the expectation that they could be bought back later at a lower price.

The farm shortages involved commodities which farmers had stored on their land under price support loans. In many cases the farmers used or sold the commodities without paying off their loans.

LUTHERANS SPEAK AGAINST COMMUNISM

Buck Hill Falls, Pa., May 20 —(AP)—The National Lutheran Council's executive director today branded communism as a religious monstrosity, but upheld the fervor of its adherents as an example for Christians.

Addressing 700 delegates at the 205th annual convention of the Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania, the Rev. Paul C. Empey of New York declared that "Christians fall short of the reckless abandon with which Communists spend their lives in a perversion of the purpose for which God made men."

All men, Dr. Empey said, were created by God and have the capacity for God-given ideals—the tragedy is that the great masses who have this potential for reckless "giving of self" manifest it in communism.

Quell Riot In Red Camp

Oil Strikers Back On Job By Weekend

Denver, May 20 —(AP)—Hope was expressed by a union coalition leader today that most or all of 90,000 striking oil workers across the nation would be back at their jobs by the end of this week.

O. A. Knight, president of the Oil Workers International Union (CIO), with headquarters here, estimated that about one-fourth of the refinery and pipeline workers who walked out April 30 have returned to work.

Settlements are being made on the basis of a 15-cent hourly wage increase plus higher extra pay for night work, as proposed last week by the Wage Stabilization Board. The pre-strike scale for day work was $2 to $2.10 per hour.

House Passes Relief Bills For Flood, Korea

Washington, May 20 —(AP)—By voice vote, the House today passed a $1,413,820,000 emergency appropriation bill, mostly to pay for Korean war costs.

The measure includes 175 million dollars for civilian relief in Korea. In a separate action, the chamber also voted 55 million dollars for emergency relief in the Midwest flood disaster area.

Both bills now go to the Senate. All but $12,820,000 of the military appropriations bill was earmarked for the Army, Navy and Air Force and civilian relief in the Korean war zone.

Most of the money will be spent during the current fiscal year, ending June 30, and will be used to replenish regular defense funds for conducting the Korean campaign.

The Army was allotted $1,128,000,000, the Navy $38 million, and the Air Force $235 million.

The measure also ticked 10 million dollars to start work on a laboratory for foot-and-mouth disease research, $2,500,000 for grants to states for administration of unemployment compensation and employment service programs, and smaller amounts to several federal agencies.

The flood relief bill, drafted only this morning, provides $14,500,000 for the Agriculture department to help restore flood-ravaged farms and $5,500,000 for clearance of streams.

It also provides 10 million dollars for restoration of flood-control projects in the Kansas City area damaged by 1951 floods, and 25 million to repair levees damaged in this year's floods.

The measure also

POSTSCRIPT TO HISTORY

Samuel I. Rosenman, has joined the procession of public men who are retailing their memoirs. Rosenman's now appearing in the Ladies Home Journal under the title: "What Makes a President."

Rosenman seems to have been a sort of confidential adviser to Roosevelt, often wrote his speeches and in other ways enjoyed the President's confidence. This, of course, resulted in Rosenman amassing much information on the man and his times, some of it unknown to the public.

Of especial interest is the statement that President Roosevelt, just prior to the 1944 election, was not satisfied with the progress he had made and wanted to organize a third party which would gather all "liberals" in one camp.

It was his plan, Rosenman says, to join with Wendell Willkie, who was believed to be in sympathy with Roosevelt's ideas, and sent Rosenman to confer with Willkie and make such a proposal. Willkie was interested, but wanted to wait until after the election which put Roosevelt in office for the fourth time. By election day Willkie was dead, and Roosevelt passed on several months later.

Mr. Rosenman may have added an interesting postscript to one of the most stirring chapters in America's political history.

MIDDLE AGES IN U. S. CITY

A Baltimore Sun writer, Russell W. Baker, turned out a story the other day which his editor illustrated with a cartoon and further set off with the comment:

"Known as a city that does not tolerate gangsterism, Baltimore is, indeed, the happy hunting ground of an assortment of thugs reminiscent of the criminals who infested medieval Paris, London and Rome—thieves, rapists, pickpockets, swindlers, bandits, and murderers. The accompanying article on crime in mid-Twentieth Century Baltimore is the sort of thing a historian of the year 2552 A. D. may some day write about Baltimore in the dark ages."

Here are a few sample paragraphs from the two and one-half column articles:

"In Baltimore, as late as 1952, holdup men roamed the streets each night prepared to cut any throat for a brass penny. Between sunset and dawn burglars were everywhere, hauling away their loot in pockets, private cars, trucks and taxicabs. No one was safe."

"In early 1952 burglars invaded the homes of a Baltimore city councilman and a Maryland legislator. A detective lieutenant's wife, walking along the street after sundown, had her purse snatched from her hand by a galloping thief."

"Thuggery was not confined to adults. Many teenagers considered it great sport to steal automobiles, then rip them to pieces with knives. Other teen-agers engaged in the hashish and heroin trade."

And so on, for paragraph after paragraph. He winds up this way: "Compared to Paris of the Fifteenth Century, violence in Baltimore in the later middle ages may have been somewhat less rampant. But the United States' sixth largest city in that distant era was far less removed from savagery than most of its inhabitants suspected."

There is neither stark realism nor wild resort to imagination in this picture of an American city, as of today.

WHAT TO DO WHEN THE BOSS BAWLS YOU OUT

New York, (AP)—Bawling out the hired hands is becoming a lost art in the American business world.

In the old days when a boss saw something he didn't like, he'd let out a yell and dress the culprit down on the spot—in burning language more memorable than grammatical.

But today most bosses seem to have lost the gift of tongue-lashing. So many employees know their rights now that an employer is hesitant about pointing out their wrongs. Therefore, it came as something of a surprise to me to get the following letter:

Dear Sir:

"I have a problem. My boss bawled me out last week, and I have a feeling he's going to bawl me out again this week."

"I would quit and get me another job except it's such a nice place to work. The management even puts in the office water cooler. What can I do? It makes me nervous when the boss bawls me out."

"(Signed) a terrified young man."

Well, dear Terrified, your problem was so unusual that I took it up with all the oldtimers I know who still remember being bawled out by their boss (there are only a few of them left). Here is the summary of their advice:

"Build up a drama of the situation. When the summons comes to go see the boss, walk into his office with a look of utter happiness."

"Get it? You make him think you have no idea of what is going to happen. He feels like a cat playing with a near-sighted mouse."

"As he tees off on your misdeeds, don't make the mistake of listening to him. You already know more about what is wrong with your work than he does. Concentrate on your

Hollywood — (NEA) — Movies Without Popcorn: Linda Darnell and Gary Merrill are the stars before the camera in Fox's "Night Without Sleep," a suspense thriller about a composer who believes he has murdered his wife.

They play their scene under Roy Baker's direction in the shell of a limousine dismantled except for the back seat and rear window. I notice that luscious Linda draws her mink coat about her each time Baker calls for "Camera." It turns out that Linda hasn't bothered to put on the dress provided by the studio. Instead, she's wearing her own black lace undergarment.

You just can't tell what movie queens are wearing—or not wearing—underneath their mink coats in Hollywood.

An artificial ocean has been created for UFA's "City Beneath the Sea," and adventure flicker about a sunken treasure. Director Budd Boetticher is lining up an action shot in which Bob Ryan and Tony Quinn, as deep-sea divers, plunged into the briny.

On a small banana boat, Mala Powers stands by with other actors who play members of the treasure-seeking expedition.

There's a realistic backdrop of Jamaica, too, and I overheard a set visitor say:

"Why, it's so real I can almost see Errol Flynn."

RECALL LOUISE FAZENDA?

Burt Lancaster, his sunbleached hair grayed and plastered down to his head, Shirley Booth, Philip Ober and a swarm of extras are attending a meeting of Alcoholics Anonymous on Hal Wallis' "Come Back, Little Sheba" set at Paramount.

When Director Daniel Mann is finally satisfied with the highly dramatic sequence, another touching drama fragment takes place off-stage. The extras pass a woman wearing dark glasses on the sidelines and fail to recognize her. She is the producer's wife, but in the days before sound swept in, she was the screen's leading comedienne. Her name? Louise Fazenda.

Marge and Gower Champion, Monica Lewis and newcomer Dean Miller are at work in a musical, "Everything I Have Is Yours," at MGM.

It's the story of a dance team who split up when the wife finds that she is expecting a baby. Marge and Gower, who are married for real, play the partners.

Today Marge is wearing maternity clothes and goes into some strenuous limber-up exercises out of camera range just as a studio policeman ushers a party of tourists onto the sound stage. A few seconds later I hear one of the women in the group say:

"Really, somebody should speak to that young woman. Does her obstetrician allow her to turn cartwheels in her condition?"

It's a riddle-me-this scene that Jane Wyman and Will Rogers, Jr., are playing against the background of New York in 1913 for "The Story of Will Rogers." Will, Jr., is playing the role of his own famous father and has just discovered that Jane, as Mrs. Rogers, is knitting tiny garments for her first stork date.

Director Michael Curtiz carefully rehearses Will, Jr., in the exact shade of emotion that he is to register. But even Laurence Olivier would have trouble with the situation and the lines.

The unborn child that has Will, Jr., bursting with paternal pride is HIMSELF. Try that in front of your mirror.

LIKE WIFE—LIKE HUSBAND

Director Bob Parrish is putting George Gobel and Maria Toren through their paces in "Assignment—Paris" at Columbia.

Thanks to a trick process shot, Maria and George are in a car racing through the streets of Paris, with George at the wheel. But the director halts the scene. Will a make up man put some grease-paint on George's hands? The British actor balks at first, but finally extends his mitts.

"He's always kicking about make-up," a crew member growls behind me. "Who does he think he is that he doesn't need make-up—his wife, Zsa Zsa Gabor?"

Irene Dunne, vexed by money troubles, is playing a domestic scene with Dean Jagger as her hubby in "It Grows on Trees." Later in the script, Irene will discover that her backyard trees have sprouted $5 and $10 bills.

As Irene and Dean discuss the family budget, I notice that there are framed photographs of their seven children, Joan Evans and Dee Pollard, on the walls of the set. These are actual photographs borrowed from the parents of John and Dee.

Look closely when you see the movie and you will see gorgeous Joan Evans without a stitch of clothing reclining on a bearskin rug. But it's Joan at the age of three months.

DR. JORDAN SAYS

Adhesions Can Cause Troubles In Intestines After Forming

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
"Adhesions" often receive the blame for all kinds of pains and other symptoms for which no other cause can be found. In doing this people usually have only a vague idea of what adhesions are and what they can do.

Adhesions are made up of tissue much like that of an ordinary scar on the skin. Under the microscope adhesions appear as slightly elastic fibers. This is called fibrous tissue and the body tends to respond to any infection or injury by forming it. This response is not related to the particular nature of the damage but is merely one of nature's attempts to heal injury.

As an example of adhesion formation, if a patient has acute appendicitis and the appendix has ruptured, spilling the infection into the surrounding tissue, adhesions will often form. The same is true of any other internal infection.

The adhesions, thus formed, may or may not produce complications later on. The fibrous tissue has a tendency to contract; thus if adhesions have formed around a loop of the intestines, they may draw tighter and tighter, thus preventing the free flow of intestinal contents. This, in turn, can produce symptoms and may require an operation to cut these bands of fibrous tissue and free the partly strangled intestine.

What to do for adhesions depends on where the adhesions are located, what normal structures of the body they surround, and what this contraction is doing to the organs involved.

Mrs. P. asks some specific questions about adhesions: "Can they be cured without operation?" The answer to this is no, but as indicated, they need not always be operated on unless they are producing symptoms. She also asks whether adhesions will turn into cancer. The answer to this question also is no, but the physician should always attempt to make certain that any symptoms occurring are truly the result of adhesions and not of cancer in the same vicinity.

Adhesions May Reappear

Some people tend to develop adhesions much more easily than others. This raises a difficult problem because in such people new adhesions are likely to form even after the old ones have been cut or removed. However, surgical methods are so good now that the number of recurrences of adhesions is greatly decreased.

Anyone can see that pinning the blame on adhesions is likely to be difficult. Sometimes it can be done only at operation when the region under suspicion comes under the eye of the surgeon.

The World Today

BY JAMES MARLOW

Washington, May 20—(AP)—That lively-eyed Irishman with the quick tongue and the aggressive chin, Judge James P. McGranery, should know today whether he gets the job of lifting the rocks to see what crawls out.

This Philadelphia lawyer, an old Truman neighbor of other days, was picked by the president at the beginning of April to be the new attorney general and chief clean-up man in the field of government wrongdoing.

The Senate was supposed to vote on him today.

The beginning of the end of the old attorney general, J. Howard McGrath, whom the president fired the very same day McGrath fired his own hand-picked clean-up man, Newbold Morris.

Some of the loudest clamors for investigation of corruption were in the Senate, which nevertheless hasn't got around to acting on McGranery until now, almost two months after his appointment.

And, until the Senate made a decision on McGranery, the whole problem of investigating corruption came to a standstill.

Before the senate could vote, it's judiciary committee, headed by Senator McCarran, had to investigate him, a task it didn't find time to undertake until a couple of weeks ago.

Several witnesses expressed a very bleak view of McGranery, an attitude which at least two of the committee members shared although a majority gave him their blessing.

Those two, both Republicans, Ferguson of Michigan and Watkins of Utah, blasted McGranery yesterday in a 45-page report in which they concluded he is "unfit for the high trust and responsibility of attorney general."

No matter what he does or fails to do, McGranery as attorney general corruption will be an issue in the could hardly be a happy man, since political campaign anyway.

Already enough corruption has been exposed to provide the Republicans with ammunition between now and election. If he does nothing or if he routs out a barrell of sinners, it will be more Republican ammunition just the same.

For a supper party, you'll like this new recipe. It makes a handsome appearance and goes interestingly with cold cuts and rolls.

Tomato Aspic Loaf Filled with Pickle Coleslaw (Makes 4-6 servings)

Tomato Aspic Loaf: Two envelopes unflavored gelatin, 51 cups tomato juice, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup chopped dill pickles.

Soften gelatin in 1 cup cold tomato juice 5 minutes. In a saucepan, bring remaining tomato juice to a boil; add softened gelatin and salt, stirring until dissolved. Cool and when mixture begins to thicken, fold in chopped dill pickles. Turn into oiled 9x5x3-inch loaf pan and chill firm.

Unmold aspic on large platter. Using a paper pattern about 6x3 inches, cut a rectangular hole out of the center of the aspic loaf. Fill with pickle coleslaw and serve. Aspic cut from center of mold may be cut into cubes, refrigerated and served next day as jellied tomato soup.

Pickle Coleslaw: Three cups shredded cabbage, 1 small onion, thinly sliced, 3 dill pickles, chopped, 1 cup French dressing. In a bowl, combine all ingredients and toss well.

Kidney Bean Sunday Supper (Makes 4-6 servings)

Two tablespoons butter or fortified margarine, 1 cup finely chopped onion, 1 cup coarsely chopped celery, 1 No 2 can red kidney beans, 1 cup sweet pickle relish, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 teaspoon salt, freshly ground pepper.

In a saucepan, melt butter or margarine; add onion and celery;

Ike Goes First to Washington To Finish Business by June 3

BY PETER EDSON

Washington — (NEA) — General Eisenhower's schedule immediately after his return from Europe has now been agreed upon. He is expected in Washington Sunday, June 1. He will clean up his business with the Pentagon, the President and Congress by June 3.

On June 3 he will go to Abilene, Kan., and the next day will make his first speech at cornerstone-laying ceremonies for the Eisenhower Foundation building. This is booked as a non-political speech, but it will be fully carried by radio and television networks.

Eisenhower will hold his first political press conference in the Elks club of Abilene at 9 a.m. Thursday, June 5.

General Eisenhower will be in New York for the week of June 7 to 14. He will make his headquarters at the Columbia University president's residence. He will hold one press conference and will otherwise make himself available to convention delegates and his New York political managers. He is not scheduled to make any speeches while in New York.

After this he will go to Denver and set up his headquarters for the summer. Where he speaks and what he says up to the time of the Chicago convention July 7 will then be decided.

This schedule was revealed in Washington by Paul Hoffman, head of the Eisenhower-for-President organization. Mr. Hoffman says Gen. Lucius Clay got Eisenhower's approval of the timetable on his recent visit to Europe.

Stand On Domestic Issues Still Unformed

Still to be worked out is just what stand Candidate Eisenhower will take on the many controversial domestic issues in this campaign.

Paul Hoffman emphasized in Washington that he could not speak for the general on these points. Mr. Hoffman expressed some doubt on whether the general had time to formulate fully his ideas on all the questions that are bound to be asked him.

The Abilene press conference could of course be turned into an endless free-for-all. General Eisenhower may choose to issue a statement outlining his platform. Or he may choose to say that he will make statements on some issues at later dates.

The general is being urged to make speeches in Michigan, Pennsylvania, New York, Illinois, other key states and all other states for that matter. But the pre-convention list will be limited.

Paul Hoffman's own opinion is that General Eisenhower will have to clarify his position on the key issues like labor and farm policy. The latter is considered particularly important in the Midwest, where it is claimed Sen. Robert Taft has his greatest strength.

General Eisenhower's position on foreign policy toward Europe has of course been stated in detail. Mr. Hoffman feels he should make some clarifying statement on the Far East Situation.

In studying the past speeches and statements of General Eisenhower, Mr. Hoffman—talking now like a campaign manager—says he found the general "takes a new approach to all problems. Ike never quibbles over the past. He is always looking ahead."

Will Offer Solutions To Nation's Problems

Applying this principle to questions like the Far East, Mr. Hoffman thinks his candidate will steer clear of comment on things like the MacArthur issue. Instead, he is expected to offer his ideas on what can be done now to solve the present problem, instead of merely trying to make an issue of controversy out of it.

Similarly, Mr. Hoffman does not expect General Eisenhower to touch the subject of McCarthyism as a specific issue. Mr. Hoffman believes the general will make clear where he stands on the matter of freedom of speech. One of the notes General Eisenhower has struck most often is the importance of maintaining freedom, says Mr. Hoffman.

He hopes that Ike can take us out of the atmosphere of fear and hate into an era of good will and confidence.

"Issues like McCarthyism became important because we didn't have the right atmosphere in this country," says Mr. Hoffman. "We should be able to treat such matters with thunders of silence."

Mr. Hoffman says he sees no possibility of a deadlock at Chicago. He thinks Senator Taft will show his greatest strength on the first ballot and lose thereafter.

No thought has been given to a vice presidential candidate to run with Ike, says Mr. Hoffman. He opposes the idea that this vice presidential candidate should be an ultra-conservative to provide a "balanced ticket." Hoffman wants a running mate with views like Ike's.

May Luncheon Of Literberry Club In City

The annual May luncheon of the Literberry Woman's club was held Friday, May 16 at the Southern Air cafe with 17 members present.

After a lovely luncheon the president, Mrs. Eloise Mason, conducted a short business meeting. A letter of thanks was read from the Trail Rangers lodge for the homemade cookies the club members had sent. Members voted to contribute five dollars toward the 4-H camp at Lake Jacksonville.

Mrs. Earl J. Myers, president of the county federation of clubs, announced the annual meeting to be held June 3 at MacMurray College.

Upon leaving the cafe the club went in a body to the home of Mrs. Courtney Crouch Wright on Piney street and viewed her garden and also pictures taken during other periods of the season. The members received, as mementos of the visit, some bulbs which Mrs. Wright shared from her garden.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the day included Mrs. Freida Beavers, Mrs. Anna Rexroat and Miss Lora Petefish.

The next meeting of the club will be held on June 19 at the home of Mrs. Carline McGinnis.

'Athens Of The West' The Scene Of Annual Graduation Services

Beginning next week Jacksonville's many public and private educational institutions will observe traditional commencement ceremonies honoring the members of their graduating classes. North Jacksonville grade school will lead off on the evening of May 28 and Illinois College will conclude the commencement season the morning of June 15. Connected with the commencement exercises themselves several schools and the two colleges will have several days of activities which traditionally take place at year's end.

Most of the schools as well as the colleges will hear well known authorities on educational, religious and public affairs deliver addresses at graduation and baccalaureate ceremonies. A number of speakers will be from local educational or religious institutions, while others will come here from elsewhere.

One nationally known speaker will deliver a commencement day address here. He is Dr. T. V. Smith, professor of citizenship and philosophy at Syracuse university, who will be the main speaker in graduation ceremonies at MacMurray College in Annie Merner chapel the late afternoon of June 1. Prof. Smith is nationally known for his many books on philosophy and the philosophical problems of American democracy. He was a well known congressman-at-large from Illinois in the 1930's and previous to that, a member of the state senate.

May Queen Coronation
MacMurray's commencement week gets underway next Sunday morning with a senior class communion service in the chapel and will be featured by the crowning of the May Queen and a junior lantern ceremony in front of Ann Rutledge Hall the evening of May 30.

The college's baccalaureate service in Annie Merner Chapel will have as its main speaker Dr. Gerald O. McCulloh, professor of systematic theology, Garrett Biblical Institute, Evanston.

This year's commencement exercises will be the last presided over by President C. P. McClelland, who has been president of the institution for more than a quarter of a century.

Illinois College will hear James F. Oates, Jr., chairman of the board of the People's Gas, Light and Coke Co., Chicago, as the principal speaker in its commencement ceremonies Sunday morning, June 15. The graduation will take place in the college grove on the campus. It will be the institution's 117th commencement.

Mr. Oates is well known in the Middle West as a leader in the business world.

The college's graduation week activities will begin the evening of June 12, when Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic fraternity will initiate into membership the members of the current senior class who have achieved high scholastic honors. I. C. is one of the few colleges of Illinois which has a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

Osage Orange Picnic
The week will also feature the annual Osage Orange picnic, which began in the 19th century as a reward to the student body for rooting out an Osage orange hedge that encircled the campus. The public is invited to the picnic, which will take place on the campus late in the afternoon.

A Shakespearean play, Macbeth, will be staged the same evening on the natural stage near Beecher Hall. Jacksonville high school will have its commencement ceremonies in the school's auditorium at 8:15 p.m. May 29. There will be no formal speaker as the exercises traditionally are in the hands of the students. Admission will be by ticket only. Four tickets each are distributed to the members of the graduating class.

attorney and well known graduate of Illinois College, deliver the main speech in its commencement exercises in the new auditorium of I.S.B. the afternoon of May 29. At present, Joe Patterson Smith of Illinois College at the Louis Braille alumni dinner on May 30.

Prof. J. P. Smith To Speak
The commencement will highlight a week of activities which included a prom last weekend and which will feature a speech by Prof. Joe Patterson Smith of Illinois College at the Louis Braille alumni dinner on May 30.

Routt high school will hold its graduation ceremonies in the Church of Our Saviour at 8 p.m., June 3. The 29 members of the senior class will hear Rev. Father Bruce MacLean, O. M., deliver the principal address. Rev. Father F. F. Formaz will preside and will present the diplomas to the graduates.

A communion breakfast will precede commencement in the morning at the Knights of Columbus hall. Prior to that high mass will be heard in the church. The breakfast is sponsored by the members of the junior class and their mothers.

David Prince, whose certification ceremonies will be held the afternoon of May 29 in the high school auditorium, also will be in the hands of his students. There will be no commencement speaker. Scholastic, athletic and extra-curricular activities awards will be made during the ceremonies.

Supt. Blodgett To Preside
Dr. Darrell R. Blodgett, who has resigned as superintendent of the school system here after ten years, will present the certificates of graduation to the eighth graders.

The eighth grade will be escorted by Principal John Conant and teachers on a tour of the St. Louis zoo and airport May 28.

The South Jacksonville grade school will hear Victor Sheppard, member of the MacMurray College faculty, deliver the principal address at its commencement exercises the evening of May 29 in the school's auditorium.

The North Jacksonville grade school will have its graduation ceremonies the night previous, May 28, and will hear Dean Ernest Hildner of Illinois College speak to the graduating class. A school picnic on May 27 will also feature the end of the school year. It will be on the school grounds.

of the school year. It will be on the school grounds.

Salem Lutheran School
The Salem Lutheran parochial school will hold its commencement exercises for its graduates on Sunday, June 1. The ceremony will have a religious emphasis, as it will be a part of the church services. Following confirmation services at 9 a.m., the nine graduates will hear a sermon by Rev. O. J. Klinkerman and will receive their diplomas from a member of the school board. The graduation will take place on Pentecost Day at the church.

800 In Morgan County Receive Security Funds

Over 11,800 aged persons, children and widowed mothers in the nine counties serviced by the Springfield social security office receive checks each month under Federal social security. H. J. Vasconcelles, manager, announced Tuesday. His area includes the counties of Cass, Christian, Logan, Macoupin, Menard, Montgomery, Morgan, Sangamon and Scott.

Over 800 persons in Morgan County receive social security payments monthly.

In releasing these figures, Mr. Vasconcelles said that these monthly payments under old-age and survivors insurance amount to $410,000.

"Without these payments earned by workers under this contributory system, the ability of many people to pay for necessities would have been drastically curtailed or entirely ended," he said.

Naydene Massey Local Delegate Of Junior Club

The Junior Woman's club of Jacksonville sent Mrs. Warren Massey of this city as its representative to the international convention of Federated Women's clubs held the past week in Minneapolis, Minn. Mrs. Massey was one of the nine delegates from the State of Illinois, four of whom were from the 2nd district of which Jacksonville is included.

Three thousand women from 27 countries attended the convention, from the junior and senior clubs throughout the world.

Headquarters for the junior delegates was at the Dyckman hotel, where Mrs. Massey stayed. The convention lasted from May 12 through the 17th. There were 112 junior club delegates.

On Thursday night the junior club delegates were honored at the Municipal Auditorium at Minneapolis. Gowned in formal they entered in procession before the thousands of delegates and were seated at the front of the assembly.

The guest speaker was Robert Montgomery, film star and notable commentator of radio fame. Overwhelming applause greeted him before his speech on Democracy which featured the never ending fight against communism. He urged his audience to go back to their groups and explain the danger of communism and the process of fighting for our "Democracy." Each of the junior club delegates were given the privilege of personally greeting Montgomery at the close of the program.

A reception held later that evening at the Dyckman hotel and given by the Minnesota junior club delegates honor junior women. Mrs. Massey made the trip in the company of Miss Virginia Wallbaum, delegate from the Ashland Junior club. The convention in 1953 will be held at Washington, D. C.

NEW FROM THE INSIDE OUT—No trim change here. This one's really new, not just a 1952 face lift. For this is the Forerunner-styled, Space-planned Mercury—the car with future features that others wish they had.

Standard equipment, accessories, and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice. White side-wall tires optional at extra cost.

TRY THE 3-YEAR WINNER THAT
TOPPED ALL OTHER CARS IN 1952
MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN

Step up to the car that makes others look—and ride—like years-ago models. Step out in the car that again won the Grand Sweepstakes Prize—the car that has taken first-in-class honors three times in three years in Mobilgas Economy Runs.

Then try to act nonchalant. Try to quiet the quickening of your pulse as you wing along on your first "Prize-Winning Drive."

See what that "let's go" Forerunner Styling does even for visibility, especially down front and over that right front fender. Discover how Mercury engineers have driver-planned this car with future features like the built-out-from-the-dash Interceptor panel for finger-tip control.

But most important, find out what Mercury's new live-weight design—teamed with a far-advanced stepped-up V-8—has done for balance and handling. Feel this car's almost unbelievable ground-hugging stability when it rounds a curve . . . how it magically snubs out the bounce and jounce of unkept byways . . . and calmly flattens the most challenging hill without the slightest flurry or fuss. And feel the smooth, effortless ease of matchless Mere-O-Matic Drive.

It's a new experience in motoring, as one "Prize-Winning Drive" will prove. Stop in today and see for yourself.

LOCATION AND SIZE

The project house is located at 314 North Finley Street, on a lot 96 feet wide and 135 feet deep. It is of Ranch type construction without a basement but with a 3 foot crawl space over the entire area. The house has six rooms plus a dining area off the living room, a bath room and an attached garage with a breezeway. The garage is double and has a separate service entrance. Rooms in the house include three bed rooms, living room, utility room and kitchen. The walls and ceilings of all rooms are finished in three coat work of oil colors in pastel shades. The wood work is done both in color and natural finishes. The house is approximately 40 x 45 feet, and the garage is 20 by 20 feet. Altogether there is about 2200 square feet of floor space.

CONSTRUCTION

The house and garage is of wood frame construction with 10 inch red wood beveled siding. The roof is covered with asphalt shingles, three in one, 12 by 36 in., 210 lbs. per square. All windows are double hung, pre-fitted and metal weather stripped factory units equipped with storm sash and screens. Each outside door has a combination screen and storm sash. The house is equipped with O. G. metal gutters, 5 inch eave troughs and 4 inch downfalls on tile. All woodwork is white pine narrow line. All interior doors are birch flush doors finished natural. Shutters and awnings are installed on the front of the house and a large brick planter box built on the concrete porch.

INSULATION

The house is fully insulated over the entire area in the attic with rock wool blankets. All subfloors, wall sheathing and roof sheathing insulated with 15 and 30 lb. felt vaporproof paper. All rock lath on all ceilings and outside walls is of metallic foil back for reflective insulation. The attic floor is of 1 by 10 inch yellow pine providing a good storage space and is made accessible by a Precision built pull down stairway. The attic is also well ventilated.

FLOORS, FIREPLACE AND CABINETS

All floors over the entire house are of 13/16 in. by 2 1/2 in. clear red oak. The kitchen and utility room have a finished floor of linoleum block tile, done in a pattern. The finish floor in the bath room is of rubber tile block. In the living room there is built a large fireplace and hearth 9 feet long. The mantle is of 18 inch red Roman brick laid in white mortar. On each side of the fireplace there is built book case sections. Over the fireplace there is installed one plate glass mirror, size 4 by 5 feet. The dining space has one large built in section for china, equipped with 6 sliding glass doors. In the hall there is one large built in linen closet. In the utility room there are two sections of built in service cabinets, one wall section and one counter section. The kitchen is fully equipped with built in cabinets consisting of upper and lower units. Also in the bath room there is one built in dressing unit consisting of drawers, doors, storage, etc. The kitchen cabinets are finished natural in pine yellow and fitted with black hammered iron hardware. All cabinet tops are covered with genuine formica and trimmed in chrome strip.

BLINDS

All windows and doors are equipped with adjustable steel slat venetian blinds.

BATH ROOM

The bath room is 8 by 8 feet. The walls are finished in burgundy plastic tile with gray trim features. The ceiling is white and the walls above the tile are done in sanitas. The fixtures are all American Standard and consist of one recessed tub, one china closet with white Church seat and one built in lavatory. The tub is equipped with a sliding glass door enclosure. Over the dressing unit is one 4 by 4 feet plate glass mirror. Also two 48 inch fluorescent lighting fixtures with translucent plastic shades. On the opposite wall is installed one adjustable bullet lamp.

UTILITY ROOM

The heating plant is installed in the utility room. This consists of a Reehm Gas burning, forced air unit with overhead heat pipes. Some rooms have wall registers and some have ceiling registers. All have baseboard gold air returns. All heat pipes are in the attic and are fully insulated, as specified by National Warm Air Heating and Air Conditioning Association. Also in the utility room is one 52 gallon automatic gas water heater, and one set of combination laundry tubs.

WIRING

All wiring is standard and conventional. All fixtures are on mercury switches. There are six circuits with the outlet for the stove and the heating plant on their own separate circuits.

LANDSCAPING

The porches and walks are of concrete. The driveway is of crushed rock over a heavy cinder base. The yard is graded and seeded and new shrubbery set into place in the front yard. There are five shade trees on the lot.

Abilene, Kansas Plans Homecoming June 4th For Ike

Abilene, Kas., May 20—(AP)—"I wonder what kind of weather we'll have June 4?"

That's the big question to the residents of this central Kansas town who are getting ready for the mammoth homecoming of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, potential Republican presidential candidate.

Virtually every one of Abilene's 7,000 residents—man, woman and child—already has made up his or her mind on a choice for the next president of the United States.

"We not only like Ike here, we love him," said Charles Case, a retired merchant, in what just about sums up the attitude of the home folks toward a local boy who made good.

The people of Abilene want nothing to mar Ike's homecoming and they feel the weather is about the only thing that could upset their plans.

ALWAYS BE CAREFUL DRIVING

White wheels optional at extra cost.

It gives this old familiar sign new meaning

WOULD you be interested in getting one gallon free with each tankful of gasoline you buy?

Then we can tell you this: It will certainly be worth your while to read this brief story of Buick's new Airpower carburetor.

Truth is—a skillful driver can just about double the bonus we mention, if he makes the most of what this year's ROADMASTER has to offer.

The reason you can get such a bonus traces to a pair of simple facts:

- (1) It's a mixture of gasoline and air that gives you power.
- (2) Buick engineers have come up with a four-barrel automatic carburetor that lets you use more gallons of air per gallon of fuel.

Most of the time, only two of these barrels are needed—and they feed such a thrifty mixture that you use less gasoline at 40 mph than you'd formerly use at 30.

But—when you want a quick burst of eager power—you can double the air supply as well as the gasoline feed—and come up with the highest horsepower that Buick's Fireball 8 Engine ever delivered.

Of course, any man who's buying a car as fine as a ROADMASTER wants a lot more than extra miles from a tankful of gas.

He wants the distinction of extra room, extra comfort, richer fabrics and all the other refinements that make a car truly fine.

He wants to ride with solid security, confident poise and lordly silence.

And, while he may not admit it, he yearns for a car that's full of fun.

All this, we promise you, and more will be yours when you take the responsive wheel of a ROADMASTER.

How about doing that—soon?

Harmony Lodge Degree Work To Be Held May 21

Members of the Masonic Lodge from Jacksonville and the surrounding area will have a busy day Wednesday, May 21, when Harmony Lodge No. 3 will confer the third degree of seven candidates.

Work will start at ten o'clock in the morning and will continue during the night.

Edward A. Jackson and his officers have completed arrangements for the conferring of the degrees.

Miss Kesinger Dies Monday At Wrights Home

White Hall—Miss Tessie Mae Kesinger, who resided her entire lifetime in the Wrights community, died at 10:30 p. m. Monday at the residence of A. B. Knapp at Wrights.

Miss Kesinger was born near Wrights April 10, 1890, the daughter of Thomas K. and Elizabeth Short Kesinger. Her parents preceded her in death. Surviving are two brothers, Louis of O'Fallon, Ill., and Clark of Springfield and a sister, Mrs. Martha Smith of St. Louis.

The remains were taken to the Dawdy funeral home where friends may call. Services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at the Wrights Baptist church of which the deceased was a member. Interment will be made in the Hickory Grove cemetery near Wrights.

Don't let the sign boards fool you. Jacksonville's population is 21,543, and still climbing.

City officials announced Tuesday the results of a census taken May 10 in the west section of Jacksonville, the portion which was annexed in December, 1950. The volunteer census-takers found 1156 persons in the area.

The enumeration was authorized by the city council to obtain an up-to-date check on population to be used in applying for motor fuel tax funds from the State of Illinois. The new census figures will enable the City of Jacksonville to obtain about $2,500 additional in motor fuel tax funds.

The area where the tabulation was made includes the new Passavant hospital area on West Walnut street, a strip west of Finley street, the county fair grounds, a strip west of Grand avenue, Mound avenue west to the White Haven motel, Sunset Drive and Mound Heights additions, and some territory south of Mound avenue.

Boundaries of the annexed territory are irregular so that only a legal description can include all of the places to which the census applied.

Twenty members of the American Legion and Rotary club served as enumerators without compensation.

Band Concert At Bluffs Wednesday

Bluffs, Ill.—The 45 piece band of Bluffs High school will play a concert of popular music beginning at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, May 21, in the school gymnasium. Proceeds of the concert will go to the treasuries of the band and senior class.

The band is directed by Melvin Dahlhaus, and has held several rehearsals to prepare for the public concert.

The gymnasium will be decorated the same as for the junior-senior prom.

Annual Student Tea Thursday At Carrollton

Carrollton—Prof. Eldon Dittmore of the faculty of Shurtleff College, Alton will be the guest speaker at the annual Student Tea at the Baptist church Thursday at 3 p. m. central standard time. A special musical program is also being planned.

The Tea is given each year honoring the Baptist members of the graduating class of the Carrollton High School and their mother and additional guests and all of the members of the graduating class and the faculty of both the High and Grade schools.

Mrs. Herbert Harr, the president of the missionary society of the church, will introduce Mrs. Meda Dowdall, the student counsellor who will preside during the program and introduce the speaker. The invocation will be given by Mrs. Laurel J. Grigg.

At the close of the program tea will be served by the women of the church in the church dining room.

W. E. Berryman, Former Resident Of Morgan Dies

Palmyra—Wilburn E. Berryman, 64, of Palmyra, died suddenly at 9:30 a. m. Monday at his residence. He had been a barber in Palmyra for 32 years.

Mr. Berryman was born April 2, 1888, in Morgan county, a son of Oscar and Nettie Berryman. He was married to Bessie M. Hart, April 30, 1913.

Surviving are his wife, a daughter, Miss Helen Berryman, at home; a son, Carl Stanley, of Maywood. Another son, Raymond, died in New Guinea during World War II.

The remains were removed to the Stults funeral home, Palmyra, and were returned to the residence Tuesday.

Services will be held at the Palmyra Christian church at 1:30 p. m. CST Wednesday. Rev. John Honey officiating. Burial will be made in Oak Hill cemetery.

Why does milk contribute notably to the strength, health, and vitality of full-grown men and women? We know, of course, that this food is indispensable to all growing children, to all nursing and expectant mothers, and that all these individuals should have at least a quart of milk a day in some form.

The answer is simple. Milk offers an exceptionally well-balanced combination of essential dietary factors, easily digested and utilized by the body. It contains fat and sugar to supply energy for the human machine; it has calcium for building strong bones; it has a superior protein to replace and repair bodily tissues. That is why a quart of milk a day is desirable for both children and grownups, but be sure you get the milk of highest quality, the milk that won first prize at the Illinois State Fair—

Rich Feeding and Room to Grow Speed Watermelons

Watermelons are among the most nutritious fruits, high in calories, and rich in minerals and vitamins. Though they seem to be chiefly delicious juice, actually they have a lower water content than asparagus, celery, cucumbers and lettuce; and of all the vine crops, stand drouth the best.

Watermelons are usually grown in hills, which may be as close together as three feet each way, in small gardens. Such close spacing is likely to reduce the size of the fruits, and more room should be given where possible. Seeds should be sown in warm soil, and if the nights continue cold it may be desirable to protect the young plants at first with waxed paper tents.

Heavy fertilizing pays well with this crop. As much as a pint of balanced plant food may be mixed well with the soil beneath each hill several days before the seed is planted. Or use a shovel of well rotted manure, and half a pint of plant food. Sow ten seeds to the hill and thin out to the two strongest plants that develop.

Do not harvest watermelons until they are ripe, as they improve in flavor very little after they are picked. It takes some study to determine when a melon is ripe, without "plugging" it. Thumping is one test, ripe melons giving a dead flat sound, green ones a ringing sound. The color of the spot where the melon lay on the ground usually changes from greenish white to yellow as it ripens.

The same insects and diseases that attack muskmelons and cucumbers may attack the watermelon. If your garden has grown watermelons at any time during the last five years, a wilt resistant variety should be used.

Johnny Sain Notches 4th Win, Yanks Shade Sox

Chicago, May 20.—(P)—Veteran Johnny Sain, the New York Yankees' winningest pitcher, weakened after a sharp start but notched his fourth victory with a 6-hitter as the Yankees shaded the Chicago White Sox, 4-3, tonight.

The Yankees' 10-hit attack against two Sox hurlers included four singles by Mickey Mantle.

The 33-year-old Sain, who has lost one game in five starts, pitched no-hit ball in the first four innings and retired the first 12 batters in order. The loser was Ken Holcombe, his fourth defeat in his fifth try for his first win. He left the game in the fifth.

Holcombe gave the Yankees a 4-0 lead and was yanked in favor of lefty Charlie Stobbs.

A walk, sacrifice, Mantle's single and Gene Woodling's two bagger put New York ahead 2-0 in the first inning.

The Yankees made another walk pay off a run in the fourth as Billy Martin and Sain followed with singles.

Successive singles by Phil Rizzuto and Mantle opened the Yankee fifth and finished Holcombe. Yogi Berra greeted Stobbs with a fly to right which scored Rizzuto with what proved to be the deciding margin.

One Day Cleaners of Springfield cleaned up on Lewis Elevator of Jacksonville in a 6-3 softball game to open action play at Nichols Park last night.

Only game on last night's program, the contest went nine innings. The hard-hitting Springfield ball club touched Lewis twirler Jack McNeely for two runs in the third inning to break the ice. The visitors picked up two more in the fifth frame to take a 4-0 lead.

Lewis Elevator fired back in the bottom of the sixth and scored a pair of runs. However, One Day Cleaners tied the game in the eighth to clinch the victory.

The Jacksonville team loaded the bases in the last of the ninth but could score only one run.

Practice games for men's teams that will compete in the league this summer will occupy nights for the next two weeks.

Dethroned Champ Wants Another Crack At Title

Tokyo, Wednesday, May 21.—(P)—Dethroned world flyweight champion Dado Marino of Honolulu wants another crack at the title he lost Monday to Japan's Yoshio Shirai in a 15-round decision.

Dado's manager, Sam Ichinose, said today, "most definitely we are going to fight Shirai again." He said that the time and place for the return bout will be decided when Marino gets back to Honolulu.

"It will be either in Honolulu or Tokyo," Ichinose said.

The contract calls for the Filipino-American to get the first crack at the title within six months.

Dr. Alvin Cahn of Chicago, Shirai's American manager, said that the world champion will be ready to meet Marino "anytime he wants but it must be within six months."

He said the contract called for Shirai's first title defense against the Honolulu fighter.

Joe Rosomando, assistant baseball coach at Yale, is a graduate of St. Viator's in Bourbonnais, Ill.

FAN BREEZES

BY BOB MERRIS

And another softball season is underway at Nichols Park. Though the next two weeks will show nothing but "practice" games, it's a sure-fire bet that the softballers will be straining to display mid-season form despite the early date.

Already the two week schedule which ran in yesterday's papers has been altered. The Arenz and Nesco teams are now one and the same. Hannibal Dixon has entered a team in the league and will play the schedule in place of Arenz. Arenz' lady will play where Nesco is scheduled.

The park will officially open Sunday night, June 1. A wonderful program has already been lined up. Lewis Elevator will meet State Farm of Bloomington in the opener and the State Hospitals will duel Northside Booster club of Alton in the second game. There's two feature games for the price of one.

The Hot-Ten-Tots have been booked tentatively for June 18. Then there will be the big invitational tournament here the last week of June. That's a menu to whet the appetite of any softball fan.

Here's good news for some lucky softball manager. Paul Blakeman is reported coming home from a tour of duty in Korea as a Marine officer. He should be in top shape for pitching duty.

Al Sweeney, king pin of National All Speedways, rolled into Jacksonville yesterday to start beating the drums for his big car racers who will run on the Morgan county fair grounds track this Sunday afternoon.

This is Sweeney's fourth trip to Jacksonville. Though he always strives to please, and does, this should be a banner showing for the big cars. For Bill Holland, a winning driver at Indianapolis, is the star of Sweeney's show this season.

Jacksonville is rapidly approaching the top of the list of Illinois racing towns. Sweeney reports. The fair grounds track is grade A, the bleachers are the best and plenty of parking space is available. Of course Sweeney would like for the grand stand to be a little more spacious. And the fair association is working on that problem. Already the capacity has been increased to 4,000. Just bear with us.

Maureen Connolly, Girl Tennis Star, Captivates British

London, May 20.—(P)—Freckle-faced Maureen Connolly of San Diego, Calif., America's top contender for Wimbledon Tennis honors, bounced off a plane tonight and won her first set-over British reporters.

The 17-year-old American Women's national titleholder arrived from New York fresh and smiling. "Just like a lovely breeze," enthused the usually staid British Press Association.

"America has sent Britain something new in the way of women tennis players," it added. "Miss Connolly is no fashion plate with a trunk full of frilly panties, and neither is she one of the Amazons who have smashed their silent way to victory in recent years."

Maureen—tall, "Mighty Mo" by U.S. sportswriters—broke into gay laughter when she tipped backwards too far in a chair in the airport lounge and fell flat on the floor.

Maureen brought five dresses and seven pairs of shorts but "no frilly pants."

"I'll leave that to Gussie," she said with a grin. Gertrude "Gorgeous Gussie" Moran, the U. S. tennis star, caused a stir here and elsewhere a couple of years back by wearing lace-trimmed panties under her tennis skirt.

After dining at the airport, Maureen went to the Harringay arena in London to see a boxing fight. "I don't believe in strict training," she said. "Bed by 11 o'clock is early enough and an occasional night out until 1 a.m. is all right, too."

About her chances at Wimbledon next month, Maureen said "I'll be in there fighting."

Miss Connolly will be watched over by her mother, Mrs. Jessamine Connolly.

Babe Zaharias Feeling "Low" After Operation

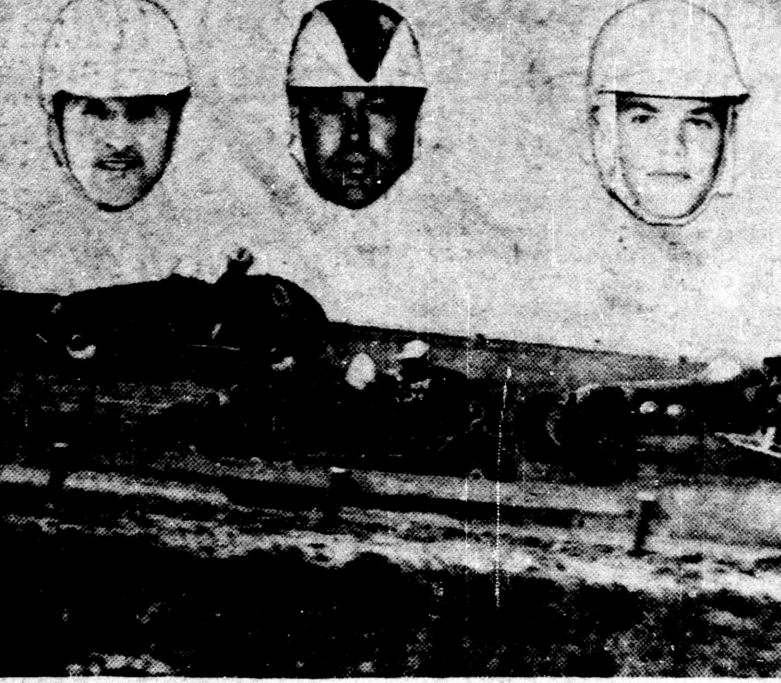

Beaumont, Tex., May 20.—(P)—Mrs. Mildred Babe Didrikson Zaharias, 37, voted the Associated Press' "Woman Athlete of the Half Century," said today she wasn't "feeling too chipper" after an operation.

The hospital said she was resting well, and Babe managed a smile. She said she had been found to be "a little bit anemic" of all things. She has been given sedatives since the operation yesterday for removal of a hernia.

But doctors said she should be all right in ten days, and the Babe said she was going to be ready for bigger and better golf games.

Her husband, George Zaharias, was detained in Denver, but expected to come here within a few days.

ACTION ON THE DIRT TRACK

Three cars tool through a tight half-mile oval turn giving fans a thrilling moment with their daredevilry. Jacksonville fans will get a chance to see such cars and stars, above, Phil Motta, of St. Louis, Mo.; Al Kern, of Benton, Ill.; and Bobby Grim, of Indianapolis, Ind.; when they take to the Jacksonville fairgrounds half-mile track Sunday, May 25. Time trials start at 1:30 with the first race getting under way at 2:30.

Unwanted Rookies Lead American League Fielders

New York, May 20.—(P)—Two rookies who weren't wanted—Hee Rodriguez of the Chicago White Sox and Clint Courtney of the St. Louis Browns—are giving American league veterans a lesson in the fine art of fielding.

Rodriguez, whom Brooklyn peddled to Chicago from its Montreal farm club, has committed only two errors in 102 chances at third base to top the league with a .980 percentage.

Courtney, an ex-Yankee farm hand, has done even better. The bespectacled catcher, traded to the Browns last fall, is fielding a perfect 1.000.

The figures, released today by the Associated Press' new statistical bureau, include games of Sunday, May 18.

Actually, third baseman Gil McDougald of the Yankees is tied with Rodriguez on a percentage basis, but the White Sox rookie has handled more chances.

Likewise, catchers Yogi Berra of the Yankees and Jim Hegan of Cleveland boast the same percentage as Courtney—1.000—but both have participated in fewer plays.

In the National league, fielding laurels are shared by those heated rivals—the Brooklyn Dodgers and the New York Giants. These two, currently battling for first place, lead in five of the individual positions.

Top men for the Giants are second baseman Davey Williams—another rookie—with a mark of 1.000, and third baseman Bobby Thomson, with a .996 figure.

Brooklyn's No. 1 glove men are first baseman Gil Hodges and catcher Roy Campanella, both 1.000.

The rival shortstops—Pee Wee Reese of Brooklyn and Alvin Dark of the Giants—have identical .984 percentages and are tied for honors in this position.

Johnny Wyrostek and Wally Westlake of Cincinnati and Frankie Baumholtz of the Chicago Cubs, head the outfielders with marks of 1.000 each.

In the American league, the leading defensive flychasers are Jim Busby, Washington, Dave Philley, Philadelphia and Irv Noren, New York, 1.000.

Senators' Report Shows Baseball Operating Costs

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
New York, May 20.—(P)—In 1929, just before the great depression, a major league baseball club owner needed $140,000 a year for players, coaches and a manager. The total outlay for 16 major league clubs that year was approximately $2,765,000.

By 1950 only one big league club spent less than $300,000 for such salaries and four of them went over the half-million mark. The total jumped to $6,920,900.

These and other interesting figures are revealed in a hefty volume titled "study of monopoly power" which reports the hearings by Rep. Emanuel Celler's (D-NY) subcommittee which inquired into the operation of big league baseball last year.

One of the many tables included in the book details the salaries of each club for 1929, 1933, 1939, 1946 and 1950. Individual player salaries are not listed.

Among the myths dissipated by this array of figures are that the Washington Senators are the poorest-paid major leaguers; that Branch Rickey invariably kept his players "hungry" for victory by holding down salaries; and that Larry MacPhail was a free-handed spender in the payroll department.

They do uphold the belief that its good—financially speaking—to be a Yankee.

Only one of the six tables fail to show the New York Yankees at the top of the payroll list. The exception was in 1945, early in the MacPhail regime, when they dropped behind the Boston Red Sox and Detroit Tigers, the first clubs to go over $500,000 a year for salaries.

Similarly, the Chicago Cubs generally have been the top-pay club of the National league with the New York Giants close behind.

The survey shows Washington never has been last, nor first, in the American league salary totals. The St. Louis Cardinals of the Rickey era were about in the same spot, but in 1950 the Cardinals of Fred Saigh moved to the top of the National league with a $495,683 payroll. The only year Brooklyn topped the list was 1943, when General Manager Rickey laid out $271,424 in salaries.

The highest salary total for one club was the Yankees' $651,605 in 1950; the lowest the Philadelphia Athletics' $135,405 in 1943.

Blueboy Nine At Wesleyan This Afternoon

The Illinois college Blueboys hope to play a giant-killer role this afternoon when they meet Illinois Wesleyan at Bloomington in a Little Nine conference baseball game.

Wesleyan is currently battling for the league championship with Millikin.

The Blueboys rest near the bottom of the conference with a 1-5 showing.

Coach Brooks indicated yesterday that Joe Fitzgerald will probably start on the mound for the Jacksonville collegians.

Game time is 3 p.m.

David Prince Nine Whips South Jacks In 11-7 Battle

David Prince's grade school softball team whipped cross-town rival South Jacksonville 11-7 yesterday afternoon.

Jordan and Reynolds walloped home runs for the winning nine. Hills smacked a four-master for the South Jacks.

The winners scored eight big runs in the top of the sixth inning to clinch the victory.

Silent Hairston Favored To Whip LaMotta Tonight

Detroit, May 20.—(P)—Eugene (Silent) Hairston, an on-the-upgrade 22-year-old ranks a slight betting favorite to whip Jake LaMotta, aging Bronx Bull, in the 10-round middleweight fight at Olympia Stadium Wednesday night.

The deaf mute negro was given a 6-5 edge by the betting fraternity. Although he was held to a draw here March 5 by the 30-year-old La Motta, once the middleweight champ.

The fight will be telecast and broadcast nationally, starting at 9 p.m., CDT. The original drew 10,000 and promoted Nick Lodones said that advance ticket sales indicated an even larger crowd tomorrow night.

Young Hairston hasn't fought since his draw with La Motta, but his manager, Mike Miele, reported him in sharp condition. Miele said the rest was planned ahead of the La Motta draw "because it was too much for him to be going at the pace he had against top opponents."

La Motta, who proclaims himself on the comeback trail, has fought once since March. He defeated Norman Hayes of Boston in Detroit, averaging a decision Hayes won in Boston in December.

It will be La Motta's 21st Detroit appearance. He long has been a favorite here and has been so successful he calls Detroit "My Lucky Town."

Concord Graders Win Annual Track Meet At Woodson

Woodson.—(Special)—Concord's youngsters tallied 100 points to win the annual track meet held here yesterday for students of Morgan county's smaller grade schools.

Elkhorn was a close second with 102 points. Then came Lynville 9, Litterberry 74, Woodson 73, Sinclair 593, West Liberty 411, Morton 32.

Both boys and girls competed in the meet.

Jack O'Leary of Illinois college was the official starter.

The meet is sponsored by the grade school association. Oliver McFirth of Woodson is president and Mrs. Harriet Moss of Jacksonville is secretary and treasurer.

Illinois Swamps St. Louis U. 13-1

Champaign, Ill., May 20.—(P)—The University of Illinois baseball team's 17-hit assault, led by Frank Walenga's triple and two singles, swamped St. Louis University 13-1 today.

The teams played a 5-5 tie earlier this season at St. Louis. Illinois, leading the Big Ten pennant race, has won 17 and lost six games so far.

New Type Car Draws Notice, Will Compete In Races Here Sunday

One of the most talked about modern big cars has been entered in the Fourth Annual Championship IMCA sanctioned speed derby to be held on the Jacksonville fairgrounds 1/4 mile dirt oval Sunday, May 25.

The newcomer is the Les King Kurtis-Kraft Offenhausen chauffered by Guy MacHenry, of Wichita, Kans. The car's owner and builder is Les King of Wichita, Kans.

What makes the experts sit up and take notice when MacHenry starts burning the sod in the controversial rig, is a new type torsion bar suspension developed by King.

Besides the newest type suspension on the dirt tracks today, the car boasts a new type braking system also. King claims the car will make history. The experts are wondering.

But speedway railbirds aren't as skeptical as they were after watching MacHenry tool the car expertly over the Danville fairgrounds half-mile last week. They agree the King car "has something," and it's just a matter of whether or not the car is going to hold up to the breath taking speed commanded by a slick, fast dirt track.

Jacksonville's speedway will be a true test of both driver and car.

Contesting the newness and speed of the King car will be such notables as Bill Holland, Reading, Pa., former "500" winner, who has a new 270-hp Offenhausen power plant under the hood of his Blue Crown Special; daring Bobby Grim, Indianapolis, Ind., with his red-hot Offy, which is also newly equipped with a 270-hp engine; Ray Duckworth, of Lebanon, Ind., with his torrid Lucas Special; Paul Craver, Chicago, with the new Bigelow Miller; and Ken Rubright, of Davenport, Ia., in the new Merle Heath Offenhausen.

A host of other top speedway stars are expected to ink entry blanks before the 1:30 p.m. qualifying time trials. The first race goes off at 2:30.

Johnny Adams Rides Five More Winning Horses

Chicago, May 20.—(P)—Jockey Johnny Adams, who rode five successive winners last Saturday at Lincoln Fields, today duplicated this feat to give him a remarkable record of 12 victories in 14 races within a period of three days. The Lincoln Fields 30-day meeting is being conducted at Hawthorne.

The 37-year-old Iola, Kans., jockey, three times national champion, had run his string to seven victories in a row Monday before finishing fifth on his third and last mount of the afternoon. Today he started off by scoring in both ends of the $27.80 daily double, sat out the third race, won the fourth, rested in the jockey's room during the fifth, then took the day's feature—the $4,500 Dettor purse—with B. M. Landy's Asphalt.

Adams' fifth winner of the afternoon was Flying Bold, also from Landy's string, in the seventh race. That was Johnny's 17th victory in 42 mounts since the meeting opened a week ago Monday. His streak, however, was stopped in the last race of the day, with Adams' mount, Worcester, finishing third, beaten three lengths.

While many riders have won six or seven races in one program, Adams among them with six out of seven at Bay Meadows in 1938, there are no records available on riding feats extending over a period of days.

Adams' first national championship was earned in 1937 with 360 firsts in 1,265 mounts. He reached the top again in 1942 and 1943. He won 145 out of 1,120 in 1942 and 228 out of 1,069 a year later. Last year Adams ranked 11th nationally among the top riders.

Kid Matthews To Meet Rocky

Seattle, May 20.—(P)—Harry (Kid) Matthews' manager said today "I expect to sign Matthews for a Rocky Marciano bout within five days."

Manager Jack Hurley made the comment after Matthews' decisive 10-round victory last night over Rex Layne, Utah heavyweight, at Portland.

"34,000 wonderful miles in six hard months"

A. E. Hoffman, San Lorenzo, Calif., writes, "My Nash Rambler Station Wagon covered 34,000 miles in six hard months, averaging better than 25 miles to the gallon, carrying loads up to 750 pounds all over my territory."

It's a real double-duty beauty, this Nash Rambler Station Wagon—a luxury family sedan, designed especially for today's crowded traffic conditions. At the drop of a seat, it instantly converts to a heavy duty all-steel station wagon with a 6½-foot platform that easily hauls man-size loads.

Wives think it's wonderful, too—so handy for shopping—so easy to steer and park—plus the smartest custom tailoring. Economy? The Nash Rambler holds the all-time record in the Mobilgas Run with 31.05 miles per gallon!

See our beautiful Rambler display. Choose the model you want, convertibles, hardtop sedans, station wagons—all completely custom equipped—even radio and Weather Eye at no extra cost. Come in today or phone us—you don't have to buy—just try!

held around yesterday's close during most of today's Board of Trade session. There were no new buying incentives, but fairly steady covering by shorts on the declined gave the market a steady tone.

Most of the trading was in the nature of evening up for the close of the May Contract. Some moisture was reported in the Dakotas, and in general all crops were said to be making good progress.

Commission house buying helped feed grains during the early part of the session. Toward the close offerings in all pits became more liberal.

Preliminary estimated receipts of Grain in carlots: Wheat 2, corn 45, oats 31, rye 3, barley 12 soybeans 74.

At the finish wheat was 3 to 1 cent lower than yesterday's close, May $2.45-1. Corn was 18 to 1 lower, May $1.89-1. Oats were 1 higher to 1 lower, May $1.96-1. Rye was 1 to 2 lower, May $1.96-1. Soybeans were 1 lower to 1 cent higher, May $3.03-1. Lard was unchanged to 15 cents a hundredweight lower, May $12.05.

New York Stock Market

New York, May 20—(P)—A midday flurry of demand gave the stock market one of its best advances of the month today.

Gains for individual issues ranged to around 2 points as buying centered first on chemical stocks and then spread to railroad and other sections.

Although the trading pace slowed again to the slow level of recent sessions, volume for the day ran to around 1,100,000 shares this compared with 780,000 yesterday which was the lowest since Oct. 3, 1949.

Higher today were Zenith Radio, Dow Chemical, DuPont, Johns Manville, Chrysler, Kennecott Copper, Amerasia Petroleum and Union Carbide.

Ahead fractionally at times were General Electric, Radio Corp., Goodrich, General Motors, U. S. Steel, American Smelting, New York Central and Nickel Plate.

U. S. Government Bonds dropped a bit in over-the-counter trading.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, May 20—(P)—General price reductions of from 50 to 75 cents an all weights were recorded in the hog market today as trade levelled off from recent big gains.

Cattle were less active than recently with prices generally steady to 25 cents lower; slaughter lambs were steady to strong.

Most choice lightweight butcher hogs sold from $21.75 to $22.25 with one load bringing $22.50. Heavier weights were scarce with a few 290 to 360 pounders selling at a $20.50 top. Most choice sows brought from $18.00 to $19.00 with old heavier weights down to around $16.00. Clearance was good. Shippers took 1,500.

A few loads of mostly prime steers and long yearlings topped at $37.50. Choice to low prime steers and yearlings sold from $35.50 to $37.00. Choice heifers brought a $35.00 top, canners and cutters $21.75; bulls at $28.00 and prime vealers remained at $38.00.

Most shorn lambs sold from $28.75 to $29.00. One load of choice to prime 111 pound fed woolled lambs commanded $19.50. A small package of native spring lambs sold for $31.50. Slaughter ewes were steady and scarce.

Salable receipts included 12,000 hogs, 6,000 cattle, 400 calves and 1,500 sheep.

THE STORY: Jack Duggan, a private detective, was murdered while investigating the case of Basil Willing's name, and Miss Katherine Shaw who may have employed Duggan, dies under mysterious circumstances the same evening. They were both guests at the home of Dr. Zimmer along with a number of others, all of whom seem to be involved in the case. Basil Willing calls on Charlotte Dean, Miss Shaw's secretary, and they find a slip of paper hidden in a book by Miss Shaw, who was blind. The note, apparently a receipt, contained some decipherable figures.
XX
THE windows of Rosamund Yorke's bedroom looked west so that the sun would not reach them until noon.
Rosamund sipped tea and looked idly at the pile of letters. "Such a bore," she thought. "I ought to have a secretary."
Bills, advertisements and appeals for charity Rosamund tossed aside. Such matters she left entirely to Theron Yorke. The last letter was from Greta Mann.
It read:
"Dear Rosamund,
"Max and I are both eager to resume our series of dinners for his patients and their families. Max feels strongly that it would show lack of faith in each other if we discontinued these dinners permanently because of the man, Duggan. After all, he was a stranger to all of us, a stranger who must have wandered into the house that evening by some unaccountable mistake. Max is convinced Duggan had been given poison elsewhere before he ever reached our house and I am sure you and Theron will agree, knowing our other guests as you do. Psychologically, the effect on you and other patients would be disastrous if we stopped dining together because of something unpleasant that happened to an outsider. It would be a sort of running away from reality. So, we do hope that you and Theron will agree with all this and that we shall have the pleasure of seeing you here at dinner next Friday, April 15, about seven o'clock."
Rosamund reached for a bedside telephone and dialed a number.
"Dr. Zimmer, please. Mrs. Yorke calling." While she waited, she lit a cigarette. "Max! I got Greta's invitation this morning. Do you really think...?"
"It's the only sensible course." What vitality there was in that vibrant baritone! "Will Theron come?"
"I think so, but... We've both heard some queer gossip about Katherine Shaw's death."
"Gossip?"
"What's his name—Duggan—was poisoned with codeine. He was a private detective apparently employed by Katherine Shaw. Her doctor had prescribed codeine for her every night to make her sleep. She and Duggan died the same night—after meeting at your house. It's the sort of coincidence that makes people talk."
"People talk too much. You know that Katherine Shaw was a chronic invalid, teetering on the edge of the grave for months. As for Duggan, he could have taken codeine pills in mistake for soda mints before he ever left his house. You may tell Theron that I'm inviting the Lawrences and the Cannings as well. And Brinsley Shaw and Miss Dean."
"You are?" Rosamund did not look like the same woman who had sipped her tea so languidly 15 minutes ago. Racing blood brought a fugitive rose to her transparent skin and her eyes were two dancing, blue sparks. "Max, you are a remarkable man!"
"I told you I was!" His tone was intimate, almost impudent.
"I suppose your real motive is the effect on public opinion. It would be bad for your practice if the dinners stopped now, wouldn't it?"
"It would be bad for everyone." There was a new firmness in Zimmer's voice. "I'm counting on you, Rosamund. And Theron. Goodbye."
"Goodbye." She put down the telephone and lay back on her pillows, smiling at nothing.
CHARLOTTE DEAN had scarcely seated herself at breakfast when she heard Brinsley Shaw's light step on the stair. "Good morning, Miss Dean! What a splendid, spring day! And honey-dee is just the thing to start it with."
Brinsley glanced through his letters while he ate his melon. Brinsley lit a cigarette with his coffee and grinned at Charlotte.
"Aunt Kay wouldn't have liked the cigarette. Do you mind?"
"Not at all, Mr. Shaw." It was unlike Brinsley to be considerate. Charlotte wondered what he would have said if she had answered that she did mind cigarettes. He was watching her face through the smoke of his cigarette and something in his eyes made her thankful that she hadn't put his civility to the test.
"What are you going to do with yourself now, Miss Dean?" he asked. "You're a woman of substance, you know. Will you marry?"
She overlooked the impertinence.
"I'm too old to adapt myself to such a change. I shall go to a hotel until I can find a comfortable apartment. That is, as soon as the estate is settled."
"Pity we didn't both get this money when we were young enough to enjoy it."
"Of course I would," Charlotte felt it her duty to add, "Have you any idea how valuable they are?"
"Sure. But I don't need the money and I don't want them. They remind me of... He stopped abruptly.
"Yes, Mr. Shaw?"
"Of Aunt Kay's last illness."
